To: Applicants for the WV State Electrical Exam
From: The West Virginia State Fire Marshal's Office
RE: Status of WV Electrician Exams
Date: March 16, 2020

To Whom it May Concern,

With increasing concerns surrounding the Coronavirus (COVID-19) globally as well as throughout the US, we have decided that the best course of action is to consider the safety of our staff, partners, customers, and test applicants first and err on the side of caution rather than risk. This means that, for the foreseeable future, the WV electrician exams will be held to a maximum of 50 people.

If your first choice of test date was already full at the time we received your application, you were automatically scheduled for the next exam at the location you chose. If you wish to change your date or location, please contact our office directly.

Having procedures in place to help ensure everyone's safety and wellbeing is an ongoing process, which brings the possibility of additional changes to the test schedule. We will do our utmost to keep applicants informed of changes as they occur, but please continue to monitor our website, firemarshal.wv.gov or check our WV State Fire Marshal Facebook page for the most current updates and schedule information.

Should you have any questions regarding this matter, please feel free to contact our office at 304-558-2191.

Sincerely,

*WV State Fire Marshal's Office
